Financial Proposals Canada Offers Newfoundland Terms of Union

By D'Arcy O'Donnell
 OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Canada today offered to welcome Newfoundland into confederation on terms described by Prime Minister Mackenzie King as "the best possible under the circumstances" and with the added emphasis that no change could be contemplated which would impose "further financial burdens" on the Dominion.
 The terms did not estimate in round figures how much the Dominion will have to put on the line as an initial outlay and Mr. King made it clear the final decision on acceptance rested solely on the island's population of 312,000.
 The financial terms, made public here and in St. John's came almost a month after release of general proposals under which union of the island colony and the Dominion would be acceptable.

Nfld. Plan In Brief

THEY MADE these disclosures:
 1. Canada is ready to absorb the Dominion of Newfoundland national debt, but in doing so it will take over such resources as the Newfoundland railway, the Newfoundland public-owned communication system, the Newfoundland steamship service and the Newfoundland broadcasting service.
 2. Canada will allow Newfoundland to retain the $20,000,000 surplus built up during the war years, providing a third of the amount is set aside to meet possible deficits during the first eight years of union.
 3. Canada would extend to Newfoundland the special subsidies of $1,000,000 awarded to the maritime provinces after special royal commission hearings.
 4. These special subsidies would be added to payments paid under an old Dominion-provincial taxation

Mayor Ainsley Re-Elected First to Receive Two-Year Term Citizens' Slates Make Clean Sweep

Successful Candidates in Civic Aldermanic Contest

Mayor Harry Ainsley, Civic Democratic Alliance nominee, was re-elected for his third term of office in Wednesday's civic election by the substantial majority of 13,394 over his Independent opponent, Frederick J. Speed.

Mayor Ainsley was not successful, however, in carrying his fellow nominees on the aldermanic and public school board slates into office with him.

Precedent was established in the election when electors gave the two-year-term-for-mayor plebiscite an affirmative majority of 1,647 to give Mayor Ainsley the honor of being first mayor of the city to be elected for a two-year term. Under terms of the amendment to the city charter passed at the last session of the Legislature, the two-year term was to come into effect if a majority of electors in the 1947 election favored the principle.

The total vote cast in the election was 18,676, or 24.53 per cent of the 76,112 electors on the 1947 voters' list. Last year the total vote was 24,919, or 33.7 per cent of the 73,832 names on the lists.

Citizens' Committee nominees made a clean sweep in the aldermanic race, and also took all four vacancies on the public school board. The Citizens' Committee nominees now has 10 aldermen on council, the only representative on that board. Ald. J. B. Gillies was defeated. He finished seventh in the aldermanic race.

In taking all four of the vacancies on the public school board, the Citizens' Committee reduced the Civic Democratic Alliance representation to one member, Ald. J. E. Morrison, who was elected last year for a two-year term. Mrs. E. Stirling, who was elected to the public school board in the 1945 election under the CDA banner, was beaten into fifth place, finishing 1,134 behind Mr. Morrison, the fourth CCA candidate.

Aldermen J. M. Douglas, C. E. Gariepy, and G. E. Gleave.

Expect Leduc 19 To Produce Soon

Imperial Oil's Leduc No. 16 was brought into production Wednesday, and from 5:30 p.m. Wednesday to 7 a.m. Thursday produced 109 barrels through an open chisel. The well was drilled to 3,125 feet in the 12 zone. Leduc No. 19 is completed drilling, 5,039 feet, after penetrating the 12 zone. Casing has been run and the well is expected to come into production in a couple of days.

New Speed Limit Plan Hits Snag

Enforcement of the 20-mile-an-hour speed limit on Alberta highways, recently announced by the department of public safety, is being delayed by the Social Credit caucus, which was to become effective Nov. 1, has run into a legal snag.

Under the terms of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act which governs passenger car traffic, it is set forth that the rate of speed shall be "reasonable." It is difficult to establish a regulation, legally, which could stand up in court, officials of the attorney-general's department said Thursday.

Trucks and commercial vehicles are regulated by the Public Service Vehicles Act and their speeds are set by the Public Service Vehicles Act.

It is thought it will be necessary for the next session of the Legislative Assembly to pass an amendment to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, to make a speed limit enforceable.

For World's Champion Claims Barbara Ann 'Weak' Figure Skater

By Jack Sullivan
 LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Jacob Gerschwiler, internationally-known sports figure skating instructor, said today that Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa is "the weakest figure skater to my mind we have had to hold the world's championship in many years."

His brother, Arnold, said he thinks Miss Scott is "very good" but "extremely unstable." He doesn't think of the champion I'd say who could hold the title five or 10 years.

Taxation Sitings Ended Ask Province to Bear Costs of Trunk Roads

Construction and maintenance costs of trunk highways in Alberta should be borne by the provincial treasury, according to a brief submitted Thursday to Alberta's one-man commission on taxation, sitting at Red Deer.

The brief, prepared by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, was submitted by Bruce Whitaker, and E. R. Roach. It is signed by C. E. Garnett, chamber president, and W. G. Skinner.

Submission of the document concluded sittings of the commission, which are being held in Edmonton, Tuesday, it was learned here last night.

The chamber committee in its brief there is no question of enlarging present taxation fields of municipalities. All forms of taxes levied on real property can only be achieved through a general sharing of revenues collected by the two senior governments, it is claimed.

Trunk highways, the Edmonton chamber maintains, should be regarded as a complete transportation system and not as connecting arteries between larger cities.

In the opinion of the chamber, the province should assist all cities and towns with reference to the construction and maintenance of main highways, where they pass through the city limits.

between Russia and the United States in any disputes which develop, and as being more hopeful than confident that accord could be reached.

The last big session on the German and Austrian treaties ended last April in Moscow with all the vital issues deadlocked.

The major differences then, were these:

REPARATIONS — Russia demanded $10,000,000 from Germany to be paid from current production. Britain and the United States rejected that and said Germany must be made self-sufficient first.

Government-Russia wanted a strong central government for Germany. France, Britain and the United States wanted strong state powers, with France particularly fearful of a strong central Germany.

Boundaries-Russia insisted that the border between Germany and Poland, on the Oder and Neisse rivers, remain where it is. Britain and the United States wanted a commission appointed to study the question with a view to returning some areas to Germany.

INDUSTRY—Russia demanded a higher level of production, mainly for reparations purposes. Britain wanted the same thing, but to reduce occupation costs. The United States said nothing could be done on that problem until Germany is unified and the reparations issue settled.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Mounting American demands for an early peace settlement in Europe on certain today to force a United States-Russia showdown in the big four foreign ministers meeting at London later this month.

Some authorities believe that the London conference fails to make definite progress on a German peace treaty and to complete an Austrian settlement, the last vestige of great-power unity is symbolized in the conference of the foreign ministers may be destroyed.

Formal United States policy for the London meeting remains to be disclosed. But it appears certain that State Secretary Marshall will give serious weight to proposals by French and Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep-Mich.) that Russia's veto in the foreign ministers' council no longer be allowed to stand in the way of at least a partial European settlement.

Gives Advice On Baby Feeding
TORONTO, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Babies are dying in Canada who need feed if their mothers would feed them at the breast during the first few dangerous months, said Dr. J. H. E. of Toronto at a meeting yesterday of the Ontario division of the health league of Canada.

A leading child specialist, Dr. E. saw a connection between bottle feeding and the incidence of infantile diarrhoea which is often fatal. A check of 1,300 cases of the disease at one Toronto hospital showed not one instance of breast feeding.

Canada's record in infant and maternal mortality however was good, he said. Infant mortality in 1946 was 47 per 1,000 live births, maternal mortality was 36 out of every 10,000 births.

Fight to Save Indians' Lives
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The United States Bureau of Indian Affairs said yesterday it is going to vaccinate new-born Indians with BCG vaccine as a preventive against tuberculosis. BCG, or Bacillus Calmette-Guérin, vaccine was developed by French physicians and was first applied to human beings in 1921. The first Indian BCG vaccinations were at Saccaton, Ariz., in December, 1935.

Terms to Nfld.

agreement where Newfoundland would agree to abandon income, corporation and inheritance tax fields in return for certain payments.

5. The payments for the use of the taxation fields and the statutory subsidies would amount to a minimum of $2,300,000 annually.

6. As a colony Newfoundland would collect between $25,000 and $40,000,000 annually but as a province practically only $3,000,000 of this revenue, mainly raised from customs and excise taxes, would be collectable by her.

7. Canada would make provision for a series of diminishing transitional grants to give Newfoundland time to develop, as a province, new revenue producing services.

8. In view of the difficulty of predicting accurately how Newfoundland would fare financially under federation, Canada would make provision to have the island's financial resources reviewed by a royal commission within eight years.

THE GOVERNMENT reiterated offers to employ Newfoundlanders where possible in federal government service on the island, to allow the island to continue the manufacture of defence goods providing it is not exported, and to retain courts now existing in the colony.

As far as divorce is concerned the island would be in the same position as Quebec and anyone applying for divorce would have to go through parliamentary procedure as do residents of Quebec where there is no divorce court.

The report on financial terms made no reference to a report released last week clearly and in general terms the discussions between Newfoundland and Canadian representatives between June 25 and Sept. 29.

In a letter accompanying the financial terms, sent to Sir Gordon Macdonald, Governor of Newfoundland, Mr. King said:

"THE GOVERNMENT could not readily contemplate an exchange in these arrangements which would impose larger financial burdens on Canada. On the other hand, with respect to the matters which are of primarily provincial concern such as education, the government of Canada would not wish to set down any rigid conditions and it is prepared to give reasonable consideration to suggestions for modification or addition."

Mr. King emphasized that it was understood that the terms offered by Canada would be submitted to the national convention, elected more than a year ago to recommend future form or forms of government for the now constitutionally-controlled colony.

"SHOULD the people of Newfoundland be clearly and beyond all possibility of misunderstanding their will that Newfoundland should become a province of Canada on the basis of the proposals advanced, the necessary constitutional steps to make the union effective at the earliest practicable date."

Newfoundland representatives estimated prior to their departure last September that a referendum of the people on the question of future form or forms of government could be held next May at the earliest. Federation with Canada, if approved, could be accomplished by July 1, the 51st anniversary of confederation.

asked: postal and publicly-owned telephone services; civil aviation, including the huge Gander airport; defence; customs and excise; pensions and war veterans and merchant seamen's rehabilitation; fisheries; marine services; the public radio broadcasting system; "other public services similar in kind to those provided at the union for the people of Canada generally."

4. Canada will assume payment of the salaries of the Newfoundland lieutenant-governor and the judiciary.

5. Canada assumes the servicing and retirement of Newfoundland's $20,000,000 sterling debt guaranteed by the United Kingdom and maturing between 1945 and 1960. Newfoundland will be liable for the rest of its debts.

6. Newfoundland will retain its accumulated financial surplus of about $22,000,000, but one-third will be set aside during the first eight years of union to meet possible budget deficits.

7. Canada will pay annually to Newfoundland $100,000 and 80 cents per head of population, subject to increases under the British North America Act.

8. The new province will receive $1,000,000 annually in lieu of the fixed awards provided for the Maritime provinces.

9. NEWFOUNDLAND may exercise a six-months option on signing a Dominion-provincial agreement on the same financial terms as other provinces.

10. Canada will pay "transitional grants" of $2,500,000 a year for three years, tapering to $250,000 a year for 12 years.

11. Within eight years, a royal commission will re-assess the financial position of Newfoundland with a view to recommending any additional financial aid needed to continue public services.

12. Newfoundland will have six senators (fixed) and seven members of the House of Commons, on the basis of present population.

13. CANADA WILL maintain the steamship service between North Sydney, N.S., and Port Aux Basques, N.F.L.D.

A Disappointing Election

The notable civic apathy of yesterday's voting will make Edmonton's 1947 election a disappointment to everybody. When only one qualified person out of four takes the trouble to go to the polls, the situation is not healthy for civic government.

It is ironic, therefore, that a feeble endorsement for the two-year majority term should have been secured at an election which, above all others, demonstrated how public disinterest arises out of the lack of a vigorous majority contest.

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay, of course, would have secured a well-deserved acclamation had it not been for the entrance of the perennial Mr. Speed who, without the remotest chance of success, offered himself as a candidate for every office for which he could qualify. The comparatively tremendous majority piled up by Mayor Ainlay indicated that the public regarded the majority issue as no true contest at all.

As far as the money-bayon purporting to authorize the extension of the majority term and civic centre was concerned, the decisive rejection can be taken less as a mark of public opposition to the auditorium than as the result of the vague and lukewarm launching of the project.

It was presented at the last moment in such indefinite terms that even such tentative basis that the voters, very naturally, were confused and uncertain and perhaps a bit apprehensive that a proposal to spend a million and a half dollars might very easily enlarge itself into the expenditure of double or even triple that amount.

Wednesday's election proves one point very conclusively: without a genuine and vigorous majority center, public interest in civic elections always wanes to levels of apathy.

Saving by Order

Between now and the end of next March more than a million people in Canada will know what it feels like to tax money from the government instead of having to pay it to the government's income-tax collectors. They are those who in 1942 had to hand over a part of their income as compulsory savings loans, in addition to the output tax for which they were liable. Their money is to be paid back to them, with interest at two per cent.

That this reversal of the ordinary flow of tax-money will be welcome goes without saying. It will be welcome in proportion to the amount which the prospective recipient has planned to use for public treasury five years ago. However, at the time, he will wish now that the law had required him to hand over a few more dollars.

Somewhat strangely, it seemed then, there was practically no complaint because these compulsory loans were demanded. Employment was plentiful and wages tended upward. Most of those who had to make compulsory savings loans were earning good money; they were making the money, and it would come back to them, with interest, in post-war years. Little or no fault was found with the compulsory feature of the transaction.

In fact, a fairly large percentage of people came to see an advantage in being thus compelled to lay away a fraction of their earnings; it saved them from the temptation to spend all they earned as they went along. To many a man who realized that saving money was not his strong point, it was a relief that he must have come as a relief.

This is a sound reason for thinking that an Old Age Pension plan with compulsory contributions required from those earning good incomes would be widely acceptable. There should of course be a guaranteed minimum pension for every person. But most of those who are able to do so would probably prefer being made to contribute a fraction of their earnings to the fund for Old Age Pension, than to have the government provide pensions for themselves higher than this minimum rate.

Backing Will Be Needed

Proposal by the United States that Arab and wholly independent Jewish and Arab states be set up in Palestine on July 1st next brings that question out of the realm of insipid suggestion and puts it before the United Nations as to be dealt with and dealt with promptly. It is high time to get that worrisome situation definitely on the agenda, and this has now been done.

At London there are hints that Britain will not agree to police the territory until the new states are formally established unless both Jews and Arabs accept the partitioning proposal. But the Arabs have said they will start a shooting war if any such plan is attempted. London can hardly be blamed if it refuses to fight a nine-month battle with them—and then hand over an unfinished war to the newly created little countries. That would be anything but a hopeful way to start the new states off on their careers.

If the United Nations accept this plan—and they probably will accept it—they should at the same time pledge themselves to enforce the decision in whatever way and by whatever means may be necessary. Britain has promised to set up a Jewish state in Palestine, inevitable as that now seems to be. If the United Nations are going to do it, they should openly and frankly accept the responsibility.

It will not do to leave the Arab countries under any impression that they can wage war against the United Nations' protégé without bringing its sponsors into the field. The orphan state would get no mercy from them.

"Mammoth" Is the Word

At Long Beach, California, there was a test on Sunday of something decidedly new in the line of airplanes; new in style, but particularly new in size. It was the monster plane for which Howard Hughes has been working for four years and has spent $23,000,000.

Yes, it flew. It took off at a speed around 95 miles an hour, flew for a mile at low altitude, and sat down just as it was supposed to do.

With a wing-span "longer than a football field," the mechanical monster is equipped to carry 100 people. There weren't that many aboard when it made the trial flight. Only 20 venturers some climbed into the super-carrier, for reasons which may be imagined. But they climbed out again none the worse for their experience—and will likely enough organize themselves into some sort of a club to which no other person in the world will be eligible.

The enterprising builder seems to have succeeded too well in setting a pace in the building of bigger airplanes. The U.S. armed forces say they don't want his flying boat because it is too big to be useful. And a committee of Congress wants to know where he got authority to spend $23,000,000 of public money in his expansionist urge.

The Hughes plane appears likely to become the Great Eastern of the plane-building industry. That famous steamship did lay an Atlantic cable—but was then allowed to rot because in its day there was no call for a vessel of the size for any other purpose. Apparently the mammoth air-carrier has also arrived too soon.

Her relatives are satisfied that the homicide was justifiable.

"Warmonger" Resolution

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

War by violence. Peace is the rule of law. War is the inevitable result of power politics which operates under an inexorable law of its own. That law demands that for every dreadful weapon discovered by one powerful state a worse one must be found by its opponent. It demands that each expansion of power by one state be balanced by expansion of power by its rival.

Power politics destroys every vestige of morality. It begins by powerful states establishing themselves in "spheres of influence" through collusion at the dowry of the weak. These states then proceed to use their power to oppress the weak. They use their power to oppress the weak. They use their power to oppress the weak.

WAR IS THE settlement of disputes.

ed in Russia—trained in fomenting industrial strife, capturing trade unions and reforming groups, committing sabotage, mastering guerrilla tactics, inciting mob assaults and actually handling weapons—from guns to dynamite.

Violent revolutions waged on behalf of the oppressed state have been created and are fomenting civil wars, leading to interventions and international war, with the framework of power politics. Mr. Vukobrat, who takes peace, in making power politics leading to war.

REPRESENTATIVES of no country have ever proposed such a comprehensive plan for defining the right and duties of states in law of the "grand chair." And the enforcement of powers to international judicial and enforcement.

Suspend Bill 39

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

There is one big difference between the new labor laws in the U.S. and Canada.

In the U.S. even such a thing as an "illegal" strike or lock-out is not a crime. It is merely a breach of contract. And even then there is an appeal to the National Labor Relations Board. The Minister of Labor must satisfy the board that the strike is not a "legal" strike.

It is a good labor relations bill would be based on exactly the opposite principle—that the two parties to the potential dispute should be helped to come to an agreement at the time the dispute arises, not encouraged or indeed permitted to drag out their disagreements to the end of the year.

LABOR HAS been more successful in its charge against Bill 39. So far the Labor Department of B.C. seems to have secured the "gag" strikes only when the boss asked the government to act.

The most serious case was clearly a case in point. One big union, 10,000 men, and a small union, 100 men, were in a dispute. The government had to act.

It should be suspended until it is amended before it makes one of the worst pieces of legislation in the history of the province.

HARVESTING THE SEA

SINCE THE DAYS OF SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD

In 1881, five years before the last pick in the transcontinental line of the C.P.R. was driven, the House of Todd commenced fishing operations in Victoria which have continued unbroken to the present day.

For 60 years, Todd's brought to Canada the pick of Pacific coast seafoods... then, in 1941, the entire neck was diverted to overseas theatres of war, breaking a link with Canadian consumers reaching back to Sir John A. Macdonald.

We are pleased to announce that Todd's salmon is again available in Canada. This heralds the return of "Horseshoe" Sockeye Salmon... packed to the same pre-war standards which made it the very best of salmon for the nation.

When you buy seafoods, look for the Todd label... none but the choicest bear it.

New Technique Developed Ships Lost in Storms Are Guided to Safety

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The United States air weather service, as come up with something new in the technique of guiding a lost aircraft vessel to safety through a terrible storm.

By date with applied meteorology—by remote control.

Serve officials told a reporter how weathermen stationed at two Jima actually found and then guided to safety a vessel that was lost in a recent Pacific typhoon—even though they only knew the ship's position was in the neighborhood of the storm.

The craft had been faring badly for three days in a wild sea whipped by winds of 140 miles an hour, with gusts up to 160.

The lost craft—the Coastal Gem—had radiated the facts about wind direction and barometric pressure at the time she sent out SOS.

With their knowledge of the pressure pattern of the typhoon and the associated wind flow, the weathermen were able to determine the position of the vessel. The first estimate estimated was 70 miles east of two. That was Oct. 8. The ship was informed of its position by radio every 15 minutes.

This pure delicious food quickly renews "burned-up" energy—valuable addition to the diet of children.

Elizabeth Says Leisure Days Gone

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Princess Elizabeth yesterday told the Royal Society of Arts that "the spacious days are gone and I may well be years before we can again afford to devote such leisure and energy to our beloved things as purely decorative."

She spoke at the reopening of the society's lecture hall, which was damaged during the war. She occupied the same chair which Queen Victoria's consort, Prince Albert, took 104 years ago when he was society's president, the post the princess now holds.

The princess urged the society to encourage industrial design "for if we are destined to live in an austere age it is for us to establish that beauty is as essential to utility as it is proverbially to truth."

"A nation whose level of good sense in art was once reflected in the furniture of Chipendale and the porcelain of Meissen, and which with lavish imitations of foreign styles or with a simple faith in the virtue of streamlining."

Schedule Flights Operate at Loss

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Canadian airmail on scheduled flights earned $2,078,688 in July compared with $2,038,817 in the same month last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

However, operating expenses increased from $1,924,635 to $2,106,640, reducing the net operating revenue from $106,144 to a deficit of $408,008.

Non-scheduled carriers showed a better record, with revenues increasing from $1,924,635 to $2,106,640, reducing the net operating revenue from $106,144 to a deficit of $408,008.

Passenger traffic originated on scheduled flights for Canadian carriers increased from 47,723 in July, 1946, to 53,044 passengers; 4,828 passengers or 87 per cent of this increase was on the international routes. Foreign carriers, however, showed a reduction of 4,603 passengers or 18.4 per cent.

Non-scheduled carriers transported 13,581 revenue passengers as against 9,176 in 1946.

Revenue goods carried increased from 2,463,891 to 2,708,033 pounds, non-scheduled carriers accounting for 58 per cent of the 1947 total. Mail ton miles increased from 119,006 to 129,997, or by 4.2 per cent.

Plan to Renew Negotiations

By JAMES MCCOOK
LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Anglo-Soviet trade negotiations are expected to resume in three weeks with the hope that Britain will obtain about 500,000 tons of feed grains in exchange for machinery, steel rails and similar products, a government spokesman said today.

Even if large food supplies are received from Russia and other countries outside the dollar area long-term agreements for the purchase of supplies from Canada are not likely to be effected. Stringent economies in dollar countries predicted by Sir Stafford Cripps, minister of economic affairs, will be applied mainly to the United States and to food imports not covered by long-term contracts as are the main purchases from Canada.

The Russians gave the first indication that a resumption of negotiations for trade exchanges would be agreeable although they gave no promise of easier terms than at last summer's consultations when British representatives left without a contract.

Since then, the Russian food situation is reported to have improved with more available for export and the British recovery program, with better control over raw materials and allocations to manufacturers, makes it easier to start the time of the dollar shortages desired by the Soviet Union.

The Russians gave the first indication that a resumption of negotiations for trade exchanges would be agreeable although they gave no promise of easier terms than at last summer's consultations when British representatives left without a contract.

Since then, the Russian food situation is reported to have improved with more available for export and the British recovery program, with better control over raw materials and allocations to manufacturers, makes it easier to start the time of the dollar shortages desired by the Soviet Union.

Scoring Honors In 5-4 Win Go To Van Deelan

REGINA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Regina Capitals eked out a 5-4 overtime victory over Calgary Stampeders here last night in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game played before 4,500 fans—the largest crowd of the season—and increased their lead atop the league to four points over Calgary and Saskatoon.

The Calgary defeat was fashioned in seconds before the end of the overtime period and by none other than playing Coach Joe Fisher, last year with Stampers. Before that, Dutch Van Deelan had been the Regina hero, fashioning three goals and an assist. Al McDougall got the other.

STAN DEVIC was Stampers' heavy artillery banging home two goals and Don Culley and Dunc Grant were their other marksmen in what was Calgary's second defeat in two nights.

Van Deelan banged in his first goal at the 1:40 mark of the first period, following the lead atop the corner after taking Bill Kyle's pass but Stampers' worried him long enough to get back on the level. Van Deelan's second goal came in the second period, following a pass from Gerry Foley's pads and Culley was right on the spot to pick up the rebound and score.

VAN DEELAN again put the Caps in front when he deflected Barnes' shot past Dettell but little more than two minutes later Devic got his first win by firing the first goal of the Regina comeback from a scramble in front. With six minutes remaining in the period Stampers went ahead on Grant's goal after he took a pass from Barnes and went in alone.

Regina got that one back at 1:40 of the second, McDougall sliding a pass out from behind the Calgary net which Van Deelan poked into it. He scored off a Stampeder defenceman's skate.

STAMPS SURVIVED a two-man disadvantage when Stewart and Emery were punished by quick succession but Stewart had just returned when McDougall sent Van Deelan's rebound to make it 4-3. The Calgary tied the game at the end of the period when McDougall grabbed Hawks' pass and broke away. He passed to Culley whose shot hit the post and Devic skated the rebound.

Both teams had narrow escapes in the second third period and both seemed to be in the frame.

THE ALMOST-exhausted Stampers could only sporadic raids in the overtime. The Capitals awarded around Dettell, who it wasn't until after the nine-minute mark they got away.

Fisher poked-checks a Calgary player, Stampers went in alone and took his time before scoring the winning goal. Stampers tossed on the forwards in the remaining

Camrose Club Feted After Puck Workout

Camrose Maroons, reinforced by a number of Wetaskiwin Colonels, two juniors and a couple of "imports," went through their paces at the Edmonton arena yesterday afternoon, and then were guests of the club executive at a banquet in the evening. They will compete in the Northern Alberta Intermediate League.

Jim Dabbs, president of the club executive, Coach Dunc Grant and other officials were well satisfied with the performances of the lads, considering they have had little opportunity to practice due to lack of ice.

FIVE FORMER Colonels, who were forced to move out when the Junior Canadians moved in, grace the Maroons' roster. They are Fred Kirsling, Jim Malin, Bert Brown, Pete McCready and Glen Roberts.

Of last year's Maroons the club has Wilbur Delaney, Mac McLean, Dennis O'Neil, John Fritzi, Bill O'Connell, Irlie Bell, Pete Gregor, Joe Yutkevich and Bill Hynes. The "imports" are Bob Hamman of St. John's, and Carl Marshall of Edmonton.

STEW BAILEY and Dennis Layton, among those present were Art Potter, president of the Edmonton District Hockey Association, Bill Raitt, president of the Alberta Hockey Association, and Sanford C. Clark, director of the intermediate league. Al Brohm, secretary of the intermediate league.

BESIDES DABBS, the executive of the Camrose club consists of: hon. president, Theo Bailey; Duke Knaab, Dr. H. Byerstein, Hymie Cohen, Wilbur Lensen, Dr. F. McGinnis, Nathan Warden, Dr. C. Duke, Ken Patridge and Rudy Melnick.

The league swings into action on Nov. 17, with Camrose meeting Varsity at the Edmonton arena. Providing the weather stills itself, the schedule will make it, Wetaskiwin will visit Camrose Nov. 30 and Waterloo Motors will travel to Wetaskiwin Nov. 22.

THE schedule calls for 48 games.

Denies Responsibility

Verigin Says Kootenay Douks Are "Killers"

By Bruce Levett

SOUTH SLOAN, B.C., Nov. 6.—(CP)—In a turbulent session, Michael (The Archangel) Verigin, 67-year-old leader of a Doukhobor colony on Vancouver Island, yesterday charged the Doukhobors of Kootenay Valley were "the killers" responsible for the reign of terror which took toll of life and property.

"TODAY I SHALL finish with you," he shouted to 600 Doukhobors as he opened his testimony before Commissioner Judge H. J. Sullivan. "You have shown yourselves as killers. You have killed your leader, Peter (The Lordly) Verigin."

Peter (The Lordly) died along with eight others in 1924 when the railway coach in which he was being transported was tipped by a dynamite blast at Farrer, B.C. No one was ever arrested for the crime.

The 250-pound red-mustached former Son of Freedom, a radical Doukhobor group, defiantly denied charges of earlier witnesses that he had ordered acts of violence in the Kootenay Valley.

Amid cries of "lies," "lies," from the courtroom, he shouted that the Doukhobors had undermined the authority of Peter, and said it was Peter who had killed all the leaders had been treated.

They had sought to "clear the road" for a new leader, trying to get the role for Sam Rehin, a prominent member of the Doukhobor community.

He shall finish with you for once and for all," the self-styled Archangel shouted back to the jam-packed courtroom.

He told a story of 40 years filled with tales of violence in the commission sitting to break a solution to the strife which began when the Doukhobors split into two warring factions shortly after the death of Peter, Canada early in the century.

Described by both the Son and the Orthodox group, the Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ, as the power behind the recent wave of terror, Michael came un-asked. The commission is sitting in a civil capacity, and all evidence given before it is purely voluntary.

HE DEMANDED police records from Nelson to South Slokan, a distance of 13 miles. Police from Nelson drove him part way where he was met by Provincial Police Constable Walter Martin from the Crescent Valley detachment.

The archangel's name, along with that of his chief lieutenant Joseph E. Podovalnikoff, was read out in a list of 360 names submitted to the commission Tuesday by Mrs. Florence Lebedeff, wife of Son of Freedom leader John Lebedeff. The list included names of Doukhobors of both sects said to be connected "directly or indirectly" with West Kootenay violence.

THE AFTERNOON session of yesterday's hearing began with the reading of a 10-page brief in Russian, alleged to be the "final testament" of Peter (The Purge) Verigin, son of the original leader in Canada.

The brief was prepared in 1930 at the request of the Archangel. A partial translation of the document was entered in the records as an exhibit.

Michael Verigin was again scheduled to give testimony, but he said he would refuse earlier scheduled testimony, claiming that he was responsible for the new outbreak this year of the internecine strife which has resulted in 10 lives lost and more than $100,000 damage in the last 40 years from bombings and burnings.

Podovalnikoff, was read out in a list of 360 names submitted to the commission Tuesday by Mrs. Florence Lebedeff, wife of Son of Freedom leader John Lebedeff. The list included names of Doukhobors of both sects said to be connected "directly or indirectly" with West Kootenay violence.

THE AFTERNOON session of yesterday's hearing began with the reading of a 10-page brief in Russian, alleged to be the "final testament" of Peter (The Purge) Verigin, son of the original leader in Canada.

The brief was prepared in 1930 at the request of the Archangel. A partial translation of the document was entered in the records as an exhibit.

Michael Verigin was again scheduled to give testimony, but he said he would refuse earlier scheduled testimony, claiming that he was responsible for the new outbreak this year of the internecine strife which has resulted in 10 lives lost and more than $100,000 damage in the last 40 years from bombings and burnings.

Bound by Pledge

Byrnes Says Russia Holds War Prisoners

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—James P. Byrnes said last night that it is the duty of the United States to demand that Marshal Stalin "immediately return" an estimated 828,000 Japanese prisoners.

"OUR GOOD REASON," Byrnes said, "is that we have not yet received the former secretary of state, because the United States took the initiative in the Potsdam declaration that the Japanese troops a safe return home to encourage them to surrender."

Russia adhered to this and is bound by the pledge, he said, but instead of letting these prisoners of war go home, they took hundreds of thousands of them to Russia."

But despite his criticism of Russia, Byrnes emphasized, in speech prepared for the House of Representatives, that the United States will not "lightly" assume the Soviet position, despite their blistering, bad man and abuse, war war."

Moreover, he said, he must not assume that our only responsibility to the world is to save it from economic disaster. He said, "The world—our world—the world which we cannot isolate ourselves, is suffering from economic war and despair. If we do so, we are inviting disaster to economic health, the danger of Soviet aggression will be greatly reduced."

ON THE SUBJECT of war prisoners, Byrnes said that under the Geneva convention governments should return prisoners as soon as possible, he said, "But even now, he added, the truth is that prisoners of war are being held in Russia, and it is in order to force them to work."

France, Britain and Belgium are releasing their German prisoners, he said, Byrnes said, but he was critical of the length of time taken. Britain's program calls for return of all by October 1948, Belgium by Jan. 1, 1949, and France must return 30,000 a month have them out by the end of 1948 but they are not doing that now," Byrnes said.

But the Russians, by their own figure of 10,000 a month, will take more than seven years to release their German prisoners. If this rate is followed, he asserted, in April they estimated they were holding 800,532, he said.

BYRNES urged that the United States should take part in a peace conference of all the war time Allies early in 1948 to start drafting a treaty for Germany, completing it without Russia's adherence if she refuses to go along.

In referring his belief that all the Allies should take part in a peace conference, the former secretary of state gave support to a position taken by the United States government, which for nearly two years has campaigned for the middle and small Allied powers in peace-treaty settlements with countries against whom they fought.

Seized Diamonds Swell Treasury

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Five large diamonds, seized from an Austrian woman as she attempted to smuggle them into the United States from Canada in 1940, have been sold for approximately $20,300 and the money goes to the Dominion treasury, a finance department official disclosed last night.

The spokesman said that at the time the stones were seized, they were worth about $4,000 on the retail market. Since then, however, the value of the stone has increased until now they are worth in the vicinity of $10,000.

Sees Disaster For B.C. Farmers

CLOVERDALE, B.C., Nov. 6.—(CP)—Cancellation of British Columbia contracts in Canada would mean not only disaster to British Columbia farmers, particularly poultrymen, but would also affect every farmer in Canada. Tom Reid, Liberal member of Parliament for New Westminster, said here last night.

"The Prices Support Act, however, is still on the statutes of Canada and could be invoked to assist Canadian farmers," Mr. Reid said.

The British Isles with a population of 47,000,000 is only able to produce for less than half of them. The North American continent cannot allow these people to starve. Some way must be found to assist them, Mr. Reid declared.

"I have no doubt this is one of the reasons why Parliament has commenced at an earlier date than usual," Mr. Reid said.

"If gambling has caused the rapid advance in grain prices the exchanges must be abolished," he said.

Rescue Plane Is on the Way

WINNIPEG, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Bob Race landed his RCAF Dakota at Stevenson Field here last night to end a search and rescue operation on the evacuation of a seriously-wounded Canadian of England missionary, his family and a Canadian army four-man paratroop team from Moffat Peak, 1,700 miles north of Winnipeg.

From here the Dakota will fly to Churchill, Man., then to Coral Harbor, N.W.T., where it will be substituted for in wheels, and then on to Moffet where Canon John Turner is suffering from a bullet wound in the head, received when his rifle accidentally discharged. He now is reported improving.

Capt. Guy D'Artois, officer commanding the paratroop team reported yesterday, after two days of intense reconnaissance, just landed from the post in a lake surrounded at a 10-mile radius by mountains, but the surface frozen over to a depth of between 17 and 21 inches, affords a 4,500-foot, smooth runway.

Officers here think it will be a matter of a few days before the missionary will be in Winnipeg.

Wheat for France

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(Reuters)—Soviet Russia has agreed to provide France with 200,000 tons of wheat and 100,000 tons of other grains in return for French manufactured goods, well-informed circles here said last night. Deliveries will be spread out until August, 1948.

Union of Burma Next January 6

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CPI)—A new state to be known as the Union of Burma will come into existence Jan. 6 next, after following action in the Commons yesterday. An amendment to the Indian Independence Bill, introduced by Winston Churchill, the Commons gave second reading to the Burma independence bill, defeating a Conservative amendment for its rejection. The bill predicted that Burma, like India, would be thrust into a "new world" as soon as the east's ties with Britain, and declared he would be sorry to hear such a word as "Prime Minister" attached to responsibility for the "The morning leader" repeating passages from a previous speech. "The British Empire seems to be breaking off slowly to fall to the American flag."

At the time, considered the architect of both the Indian and Burmese independence, Mr. Churchill, the Commons, the "The morning leader" because "The record representative of Burma chose independence, and in our view, nations have the right to decide the nature of their own government." He said he was sorry Burma had not chosen to become a British Dominion.

Predicts Alcoholism Considered Illness

The day is coming when the church will look upon alcoholism as a sickness rather than a sin, Dr. Forrest L. Hinesman, Christian Church pastor of Minneapolis, predicted in addressing members of the Edmonton Chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous in the chapter clubhouse Wednesday night. The young Minneapolis clergymen urged a widespread educational campaign to acquaint prominent lay non-alcoholics in the Alcoholics Anonymous, which he predicted would soon spread throughout the world, because of its phenomenal success in the rehabilitation of problem drinkers. The minister is one of a very few North American clergymen who has studied at the Yale School of Alcohol Studies, foremost scientific organization devoted to the study of alcoholism in the continent. The speaker felt that the traditional view of the churches to treat excessive drinking as a moral problem has resulted in the failure of religious institutions to successfully rehabilitate the problem drinkers. He declared alcoholism is the fourth greatest health problem in the continent today, with 4,000,000 chronic alcoholics in the U.S.A.

Paying a high tribute to A.A., Dr. Hinesman said that prior to the founding of the organization, 30 years ago about 95 per cent of all alcoholics were considered hopeless. Since that time A.A. has demonstrated that of those seriously seeking escape from excessive drinking three out of four who join A.A. win permanent, contented sobriety.

Dr. Hinesman declared national prohibition will never succeed with two out of three adults above the age of 21 "accepting" the use of alcoholic beverages as a normal part of their lives.

Large Audience Sees Three Plays

Provincial dramatic talent was unrolled in a large audience of high school students in Carleton School auditorium Tuesday evening when the University of Alberta Players, presented three one-act plays. The plays were to be repeated in Convocation hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings and at the Weigman auditorium Friday evening.

The plays were varied in theme and setting and provided plenty of scope for the six thespians whose talents contributed to an enjoyable evening. Fred Robert Orchard, of the department of drama at the university, directed the performance. The cast included Edith Cardiff, Violet Ulasovetz, Richmond Olsen, Gordon Atkinson, Gordon Peacock and Jim Scott.

"Peter Petelin", a medieval French farce, was a novel treat to the audience. The simple stage setting, the improbable situations and the triumph of the greater rogue over the lesser, provided interesting comparison with modern plays.

Robert Garth's "Johnny Dunn", a play about early days in Alberta, was filled with witty anecdotes and humorous antics. Perhaps the most outstanding parts of the play were those in which the audience participated. The choral speaking was admirably done.

The third play "The Happiest Man on Earth", took place during the depression years, and the cast contributed well to the mood of the play.

Missing City Girl Returns to Home

Patsy Burkhardt, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burkhardt, 1030 105 street, the object of a police search Tuesday night and Wednesday morning after she was reported missing by her parents, was found by her father about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in a city theatre.

When discovered, she was in company of a 12-year-old girl, Gertrude Bernard, Jasper Place. They told police they had some money so they went to a rooming house and found lodgings by telling the proprietor that they had just come into town and their mother was following.

Police said the girls' stories were conflicting. Both were unharmed.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Informed police sources said yesterday Brazil has taken precautions against sabotage in her vital industries because of unreported indications that the outlawed Communist party was preparing to begin underground activity. Coal, iron and oil deposits and steel mills were under extra protection, the informants said. Brazil outlawed the Communist party in May and broke relations with Russia last month.
